Anne's RED HAIR

Gilbert, Anne's
classmate, chased after Anne as she left the schoolyard
with her best friend, Diana.

"Hey! Are those wild
carrots on your head?"

Anne's feelings
were hurt by Gilbert.

Anne was very sensitive about the color of her hair.

She complained to her adoptive mother, Marilla.

"I am tired of my red hair!"

"You have fine hair, Anne."

Anne watched Marilla
use lemon juice to wash
out a red strawberry stain.
That gave her an idea.

Anne squeezed lemon juice into her hair. Diana helped her.

“People like you for who you are, not for what color your hair is.”

Anne looked at her reflection and frowned. Her hair was still bright red!

But Anne would not give up. She made a blond wig out of a mop!

Diana and Anne walked to town. Anne wore her new hair.

Gilbert ran by and pulled off Anne's wig!

Anne and Diana met a man
selling hair dye on the road.

Anne bought the hair dye.

Diana washed the tonic into Anne's hair.
When Diana finished, Anne looked
in a mirror.

Anne cried. The hair
dye was bad.

"My hair is GREEN!
What am I going to do?"

After Diana left, Anne began to cry.
She started to daydream.

"If only I wasn't
different.
If only I was pretty!"

Anne's friend, Dryad, took her deep into her imaginary forest.

They heard beautiful music.

"Look, there's
the Fairy Trio!"

They saw a fairy playing a harp.
The harp was made from
her green hair!

Beside her came
a gentle sound
from the Gap
Goblin,

while a Nose Gnome sat
playing his large fat
nose.

"The whistle comes from
his gapped teeth."

"That way you can all
make beautiful music when
you each play a different part.
What a harmonious concept!"

"We believe that it is a great thing that we are
all so different."

Anne left her imaginary
friends and quickly
ran home.

Marilla washed her
hair with vinegar.
It became fiery red,
once again.

Diana and Gilbert
came over.

"Gilbert Blythe,
your teasing can't upset
me. My hair is the best part of me."

"And we love you
for who you are."

"I'm the happiest
redhead in Avonlea!"

er adoptive father, Matthew,
was proud of Anne.

"Red hair and all."

The next day Gilbert admitted that he really liked Anne.

Especially because she always had a quick answer everytime he teased her.

Later on, Anne found Dryad again. She whispered to him that having "kindred spirits" like Matthew, Marilla, Diana and even Gilbert meant so much more to her than the color of her hair.

Dryad promised to return
whenever Anne needed to solve a problem.

"It's what makes
me - ME."
